Hello Professor Song,

We recently had a client meeting with you about the timeline and structure of the project. Now, we have a final rough draft (outline) of the timeline structure based on all of our perspectives and your feedback from the meeting.

Please respond to this email with your (digitally signed) approval of the project schedule.

Professor Maxim is also cc'd on this email (and has view permissions to the schedule file), as well as all of the team members. I will link the google spreadsheet version of the schedule, and also I will upload the Microsoft Project version (which contains the Gantt Chart) to our google drive folder.
